

Lee Rickler

Berlin Haze

A while ago I was attending a design conference in Berlin. I arrived early, as I usually do, and settled into my hotel room high up in the Alexanderstraße.

I checked the conference website and noticed they were going to be giving away large prints so I spent a few hours creating this piece from one of the many photos I took from the hotel window.

The only catch to getting the free print was that you had to then enter it into a design competition they had organised at the conference. So I did. And I won - 1st prize was a copy of Adobe CS suite.

Yes, it was that long ago.

Yellow Buds

On a lovely warm day I found myself sitting in Foxham Gardens, Islington when I noticed these symmetrical buds staring down at me.

Never seen them before, had to take the shot.

<https://leerickler.com>