

Elisenda Vila
Madeira, 2014
Watercolour on paper
33 x 45 cms framed

This painting was inspired by a trip that I took to Madeira many years ago. There I was fascinated by the orderly but at the same time savage nature. I found their traditional houses very charming, so I decided to paint one of them.

I am a professional artist from Barcelona currently working and living in London. More information about my art and myself can be found at www.elisendavila.net

Twitter: @ElisendaVilaArt

Facebook: www.facebook.com/artelisendavila