

Roger Alsop

Isle of Grain power station with black-hulled yacht, 2015

Watercolour on paper

48 x 38 cms

I'm 69 and have painted all my life. I studied at Cambridge School of Art which I loved. I like big vehicles but I only discovered the beauty of the sea and the sky at Southend two years ago.

The beauty of it takes my breath away. What I'm particularly drawn to at Southend is the movement on the water itself. The big ships and the lines and ripples in the sea.

I have a website at <http://www.rogeralsop-art.co.uk/>.
