

HOLLOWAY ART LENDING LIBRARY

Update – September 2017

Here is the September update from the Holloway Art Lending Library (HALL)!

We had our quarterly lending session at Resource for London (map) a few weeks ago. Thanks to everyone who came along. If you missed it, the collection will be exhibited on Saturdays from 10am to 4pm in Resource for London's first floor gallery, with the exception of 11 November, until our next lending session which is scheduled for 8-10 December.

These are photos of members borrowing Misty Morning Blackbird and Mother Sheep by Carol Hambleton, Pike Swipe, by Yoko Iwaya, and Small Isles 2 by Liz Elton.

Visit our Facebook page to see more and please like us while you're there!

If you borrowed from the collection and haven't already, please email us a photo of where you have it hanging. HALL artists appreciate seeing where their work ends up.

If you're not yet a HALL member, you can register in advance of the next lending session to borrow from the art lending library. Click here and complete the short form. And then just bring your photo ID and proof of address along with you to the next lending session in order to borrow an original work of art for three months, free of charge.

Thank you for your generous donations to HALL so far! We have already relaunched the crowdfunding campaign for the next quarter. Here is a link to the JustGiving page.
